Find Defendant Wounded Moore as an Act of Self Defense

ATTACKED WITH CLUB

Wife and Son of Deceased on Stand Say Moore Vicious When Intoxicated

Finding sufficient provocation for the shooting of John Moore in this city on the night of Jan. 22, Scott Teter, for the past twelve years employed by the People's Ice company, was exonerated Tuesday by Justice H. J. Gray of the murder of Moore and the defendant charged. Moore was fatally wounded by Teter shortly after dark when the deceased attacked the defendant and Mrs. Moore with a piece of bladed cut.

Had Often Made Threats. Mrs. Moore testified that she and Teter, who had been a friend of the Moore family for several years, went to a picture show and that after they had entered were followed by Moore, who disturbed the show and the audience by threats against Mrs. Moore and Teter. The witness testified that she and her husband had separated some time ago, the latter had often made threats while in an intoxicated condition.

Shortly after Moore left the theater, Mrs. Moore and Teter walked to a grocery on West First street, where she is employed and there obtained a revolver which Teter carried. She stated it was her intention of taking the weapon from Teter when she boarded a jitney and that Teter was to return to town.

Believe Moore Was Intoxicated. As she and the defendant were walking near First street and Cheyenne avenue, she said, Moore, carrying a club, stepped from an automobile and walked toward the pair with the threat to kill Teter. Mrs. Moore attempted to step between the men but her husband pushed her aside and struck at Teter with a billiard cue he was carrying. Teter said nothing, but when Moore attempted to strike him the second time, Teter fired one shot which struck Moore in the right hip.

The wounded man was taken to a hospital where he died last Wednesday night. Mrs. Moore stated positively that her husband was not of a jealous nature and had a good disposition except when he was in an intoxicated condition. Following the testimony of Mrs. Moore, her son, John Moore, took the stand and stated that he had taken his father in an automobile to the corner of First and Main streets, where he was in the presence of the son, said that he would search every picture show in town until he found his father and that he would kill him both of them.

At another time, the boy testified his father said that if Mrs. Moore did not return home before 11 o'clock, the son might find her in a hospital.

TRY VARNER FOR LARCENY OF AUTO

State Says Defendant Is Guilty of Stealing Car From H. Sanford

Prosecution of Paul Varner for the theft of a Ford automobile from Howard Sanford, 4 South Trenton avenue, on January 15, was started in district court No. 2 Tuesday afternoon and the case was continued to Wednesday morning. Sanford, who filed the information against Varner, charged the defendant with taking the car without knowledge of the owner. Varner claims he bought the car and has a bill of sale from a man named H. E. Martin. The state, however, claims this bill of sale is a forgery.

In a statement of the case to the jury the county attorney declared he was ready to prove that Varner took the car from in front of the postoffice, where the car had been parked by the owner, Sanford, and that he then drove the auto to the garage in the rear of the home of J. A. Anderson, 1602 East First street, where he and his wife roomed. It was there that Sheriff McCullough and Frank Wolfe, deputy, found the auto identified by Sanford as the latter's property.

RED CROSS TAKES ON LIFE

Activity Has Increased Recently According to Monthly Report. The Tulsa Red Cross chapter has taken on renewed activity of late, under the direction of Mrs. Jennie K. Beam, executive secretary of Tulsa county chapter and Mrs. W. D. Godfrey, instructor, according to the monthly report issued yesterday.

Miss Frances Mier, graduate of the Woman's hospital, Philadelphia, with a year's experience in institutional work and for the past three years engaged in private duty nursing in this city, assumed her new duties as assistant to Mrs. Godfrey yesterday. New classes are forming and persons who may be interested are asked to register or communicate with Red Cross headquarters concerning the work.

The monthly report showed money loaned to the amount of $310.34; money returned $228.34. The society dealt with 242 families during the month and assisted 4,032 families. The amount of $1,829.73 was collected for soldiers during the month.

INDUSTRIAL OFFICER HERE Hearing Claims in Special Session of Superior Court Room.

More than half of the 40 cases set for hearing Tuesday and Wednesday before Judge H. C. Myers of the Oklahoma state industrial commission, were disposed of yesterday by the court sitting in superior court room in the county court house. Judge Myers will hear the remainder of the cases today.

An unusual feature of the hearing was the case of L. A. Mulholland, who in April of 1913 was injured near Bartlesville while in the employ of J. H. Markham, Jr. Mulholland received a small weekly compensation for six weeks and then returned to his regular duties. He continued for about one year, but in June of 1918 his former injury completely incapacitated him and now he is before the court on a motion to revive award and grant further compensation. Mulholland now claims permanent disability.

Drop Apple Charge Court Dismisses Embroidement Case Against Defendant Accused of Misappropriating Fruit.

Mrs. J. Matthews, accused with her husband of the embroachment of 300 boxes of apples, valued at $800, from the Mouser grocery company of this city, was found not guilty at her preliminary hearing before Justice H. J. Gray Tuesday and was released by the court. Matthews has not yet been captured.

The state proved that the grocery company shipped the apples, freight paid from Tulsa to Matthews at Enid, but the latter had never paid for the apples. It was not shown, however, that Matthews had ever received the apples or sold them and no proof having been introduced to show the woman was connected in any way with the transaction, she was discharged.

The National Sheep and Wool Bureau of America has announced it will support a plan to bring about a year's embargo on the importation of wool.

Co-operative marketing of wool through the county agent gave growers of Williamson county, Texas, 60 cents a pound at a time when local buyers were offering but 35 cents.
